This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Preface.

THE following pages contain—(i) All the inscriptions on the stones in the churchyard of S. Mary, Lewisham; (ii) The inscriptions on the monuments and stones in the Old Church; (iii) The inscriptions on the monuments in the present Church, and on the vaults beneath.

With regard to the first of these—the inscriptions in the churchyard—every effort has been made to ensure accuracy, and each inscription, after having been transcribed, has been verified by comparison with the original, and any doubtful points are marked with a query. The inscriptions are for the most part given entire and line by line, but, in order to save as much space as possible, texts and verses from hymns have been omitted, together with verses of universal occurrence, such as the well-known lines "Afflictions sore," etc., etc. It has been a matter of regret to us that we have been unable to insert notes as to the position of each stone, but the size of the churchyard would render anything but a plan of the ground useless.

The inscriptions from monuments in the old Gothic Church, which was pulled down in 1774, are taken from Thorpe's "Registrum Roffense," part ii, p. 845, etc. Some of them are also to be found in vol. xxxv of Bishop Kennet's collections (Brit. Mus. Bibl., Lansdown 969, Plut. lxxvii, A, fol. 243, etc.), and any additional information there given will be found noted against the inscriptions. When the Church was re-built, most of the monuments, after remaining some time in the chapel of Colfe's Almshouses, were placed in the vaults, and have now nearly all disappeared. Why they were not re-erected in the present Church must ever remain as much a mystery as it is a matter for regret. A note has been inserted under those which are still in existence as to their present position. The brass to George Hatcliffe also disappeared, but the inscription was discovered some years ago in the vaults and placed in the Church. A drawing of the brass will be found in Thorpe's "Custumale Roffense"; it consisted of a figure of a man in the furred gown of the early part of the 16th century.

The Lewisham Inscriptions have an additional value from the fact that in 1830 a fire destroyed nearly all the older Registers, and many of the entries in them of the 17th and 18th centuries have now no other record than those here printed.

Our thanks are due to the Rev. the Hon. AUGUSTUS LEGGE, Vicar of Lewisham, and to Mr. THOS. A. WARRINGTON, churchwarden, for the assistance rendered by them; and this will be a fitting place to record the gratification of the Society that the work of levelling and improving the churchyard a year or so since was carried out without disturbing a single grave or removing any of the stones. This is a matter for considerable congratulation in view of the desecration and destruction which too frequently attends the laying out of churchyards as public gardens.

No titled birth hadst thou to boast,
Son of the desert, Fortune's child,
Yet not by frowning fortune cross'd
The Muses on thy cradle smil'd.
Now a cold tenant dost thou lie
Of this dark cell; all hushed his song;
While Friendship bends with streaming eye,
As by thy grave she wends along,
On thy cold clay lets fall a holy tear,
And cries, though mute, there is a poet here!

East side.

Let widowed grief on this sad tablet tell
What Heavenly worth in youth and beauty fell.
Graceful her form, with sense imbued her mind,
Her manners elegant, her taste refined,
Hers was the candid bosom, free from art,
The kind, benevolent, and feeling heart,
The temper mild, the sweet enchanting play
Of chastened humour innocently gay,
Each baneful passion was to her unknown,
Meek in religion's peaceful paths she shone,
Shone in each sphere of her too transient life,
As daughter, sister, mother, friend, and wife,
Through painful sufferings, tranquil to the last,
Her lips no murmurs, no repinings past,
From life's loved scenes submissive she retired,
And with a Christian's steadfast hope expired.
Ye fair and young, this bright example view,
Her graces and her virtues speak to you.
With deep remembrance from this spot retire,
And strive to copy what you must admire.

Here lies beneath this stone, consigned to dust,
One who thro' life did in her Maker trust;
Delusive joys o'er her had little power,
But valued much the self-approving hour;
Shunning gay scenes, those enemies of thought,
She in retirement found the Balm she sought;
Convinc'd this life no solid joys impart
But such as spring from purity of heart,
Nor sought the applause of weak erroneous men,
Who oft approve where most they should condemn;
The thought of Heaven her actions did controul,
And to its Mercy now resigns her Soul.

Appendix A

APPENDIX A.

Inscriptions from the Monuments and Gravestones in the Old Church, which was pulled down in 1774.

From THORPE'S Registrum Roffense, part ii, p. 845, &c.; and LANSDOWN MS. 969.

On the North side is a handsome mural monument of white and grey marble, and underneath this inscription:—

582. The righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.—To the memory of John PERY, Esq., late of Blackheath, in this parish, youngest son of William Pery, Esq., of Thorpe, in the County of Surry. He was a citizen of London, a Governour of the five Hospitals there, and upwards of fifty years in the Commission of the Peace for the County of Middlesex. In the reigns of King William and Queen Anne he was one of the representatives in Parliament of the Borough of Shoreham, in the County of Sussex. His conduct through the whole course of his life gained from all who knew him that true esteem due to Christian fortitude, exemplary piety and extensive charity. He exchanged this life for immortality March 29, A.D. 1732, aged 92 years.—Also to the memory of Mrs. Ann Pery, his dear wife. She was daughter of Mr. Rowland INGRAM, of London, merchant, of the family of Lord Viscount IRWIN, of the kingdom of Scotland, and by her mother, Mrs. Ann NOEL, was descended from Viscount CAMBDEN, of Cambden, in Gloucestershire. She was a sincere Christian, a virtuous wife, an indulgent mother, and a faithful friend. She lived fifty years with her husband, by whom she had 15 children. She died April 16, A.D. 1733, aged 72 years.—In the same vault and near this place are interred their daughters Penelope THORTON, Susanna LOTON, and Margaret PERY, their eldest daughter, who died January 16, A.D. 1747, and by her will ordered this monument to be erected in testimony of her filial affection.

Beneath are these arms: Argent, on a bend sable, three pears or, over all an escutcheon of pretence ermine, on a fess gules, three escallop shells or.

On the South side is a mural monument of white and grey marble, supported by columns; under a canopy of white marble is an urn, on each side a cherub, and on the base is this inscription, part of it covered by a pew in the gallery:—

583. Near this place lies interred the body of Thomas DYER, Esq., barrister (son of John Dyer, gent.), and Katherine, his dearly beloved wife, only sister of Francis LOWE, Esq., of Brightwell, in Oxfordshire. They were married near twenty-eight years, and lived a most comfortable, cheerful and pleasant life, their only strife being who should love most. She was a most valuable wife, and lived and died a pious Christian on the 3 of April, 1748, in the 58th year of her age, leaving her husband inconsolable till his death, which happened the 4 of September following, aged 63. He was a most generous benefactor to the poor children of the Royal Foundation of Christ's Hospital, pursuant to whose will, and to perpetuate the memory of so worthy a benefactor, this monument is erected by Philip SCARTH, Esq.

Above are these arms: Or, a chief indented gules, impaling argent, on a bend azure, three wolves' heads erased sable, langued gules; on the canopy is the crest, viz., a goat's head on a ducal coronet.

IN THE CHANCEL.

On a gravestone of black marble is this inscription:—

584. Here lieth | Mrs. Susanna GRAHME | wife of | Reginal Grahme, Esqre., | lord of this mannor | and second daughter of | Sr. William WASHINGTON | who departed this life | the 26 day | of February, Anno Domini | 1698, aged 81 years.*

Near the former is another gravestone of black marble, with this inscription:—

585. Here lies the body of Mary GRIFFITH, who died 24 April, 1647, in the 79th year of her age.—And also the body of Mrs. Ann KELLY, the mother of the above-said Mary Griffith, buried in the year 1695.—(Part of this stone is in the vaults.)

On a gravestone near the above is this in Roman capitals:—

586. Here lyeth the body of Anne WYLDE, 2nd daughter of Sir William Wylde, Knt. and Bart., one of the Justices of his Majesty's Court of Common Pleas, and of Dame Frances, his wife, who dyed in her infancy, and was buried here the last day of April, 1668.

On another gravestone is this in Roman capitals:—

587. Here lyeth buryed | Frances WYLDE, daughter | of Sir William Wylde, Knt. and | Barronet, and Dame Frances | his wife, who dyed in her | infancy on Monday, y^e^ 3 day of December, 1666 | and was buryed here | on Thursday following.—(This stone is now in the vaults.)

On another, on the south side of the Communion Table, is this in Roman capitals:—

588. Here lyes the body of Wm. RUTLAND, who dyed the 9 day of May, 1696, aged 4 yrs. 1 month and 24 dayes. He was second son of Wm. Rutland, citizen and leatherseller of London, and Ann, daughter of Richard . . . wer, Esq. ("Gower, Esq."—Bishop Kennet.)

Within the rails of the Communion Table, on a gravestone, is this inscription:—

589. Depositum Georgij STANHOPE, S.T.P., dec. cant. et ecclesiae hugus vicarij, 1728.

On another gravestone within the rails is the effigy of a man in brass, with this inscription in black letter:—

590. Hic jacet Georgius, filius et heres Willielmi Hatteclyff, armigeri, quondam thesaurarij terre domini regis Hibernie, ac unius clericorum compoti hospicij regis; qui quidem Georgius obijt primo die mensis Augusti, anno domini millesimo quingentesimo decimo quarto.

Above was an escutcheon of brass, now defaced; beneath the plate were two escutcheons; the first is gone, but the second remains in part blank, impaling 3 fleurs-de-lis, a label of 3 points.

On the north side (on y^e^ north wall of y^e^ chancel—Bishop Kennet) is a small mural monument of Alabaster, with this inscription in Roman capitals:—

On a gravestone is this inscription:—

595. In hopes of a joyfull resurrection lyeth the body of Mr. Joseph CURTEIS, the son of Mr. Tho. Curteis, brewer, who departed this life 11 of March, 172½, aged 17 years.—Also the body of Mr. Thomas Curteis, father of the above-said, who departed this life the 16 of November, 1728, in the 51st year of his age.

A loveing subject in his life,
A loveing husband to his wife,
A father to his children dear,
And a good neighbour lyeth here.

On another gravestone, this (in the north isle of y^e^ chancel—Bishop Kennet):—

596. Here lyeth the body of John PETER, gent., borne at Nuport, in the County of Bucks, who departed this life the 22 of December, 1684, aged 44 yeares.—Here also lyes the remains of Elizabeth, his wife, who dyed February the 24, 1738, aged 90 years and 6 months. Of X children (nine sons and one daughter) only two survived her, viz., Richard, vicar of Eltham; and Charles, citizen and founder, of London.

For twenty annual courses of the sun,
This loyal pair a Christian course did run;
The various stage of life they wisely trod;
In joys and griefs they still remember'd God.
Death them did part full four and fifty years,
Which she (a widow) spent in prayers and tears;
Releas'd at length (what long she wish'd and chose),
This faithful stone doth both their bodys close;
Their souls above in mutual raptures greet,
Whilst bodys here dissolve, and in their ashes meet.
So let 'em rest in peace, till God shall raise
The dead in Christ to celebrate His praise.

On a gravestone of black marble is this inscription:—

597. Underneath lyeth all that was mortal | of Elizabeth | the wife of John DYER, gent. | who died y^e^ 9 of April, 1708 | aged 47 years 9 weeks and 4 days | And also the body of y^e^ abovesaid | John Dyer | who resigned this mortal life | (for one that is eternal | purchased by Christ) | the 6 of September, anno Domini 1713 | in the 60th year of his age | Likewise the body of Thomas Dyer, Esq., their only son, and Katherine his dearly beloved wife, only sister of Francis LOW, Esq., of Brightwell in Oxfordshire. He was son of Thomas Symes, of Winterbourne, in the County of Gloucester, Esq., who married Amy, the sister of Sir Thomas BBIDGES, of Keynsham, in the County of Somersett, Knt., by whom he had 12 sons and 4 daughters. The above-named Richard was the tenth son. By his last will, bearing date the 17 day of July, 1723, he desired that a monument might be erected by his executor in memory of him and his second wife, Charlotte Symes, who also lyes here interred; she was the daughter of Sir Orlando BRIDGMAN, of Ridley, in the County of Chester, barronett; she died the 3 day of March, 1718, in the 37th year of her age. His third wife was Elizabeth, the eldest daughter of the Right Honourable Mathew Ducie MORTON, Baron Morton of Morton, in the County of Stafford, who is now living.

Beneath are these arms: Azure, 3 escallops in pale, or, impaling argent ten plates sable, on a chief argent a lion passant sable.

On another mural monument of white marble is this inscription:—

600. Beneath lyeth interred the body of Elizabeth DYER, the loving and beloved wife of John Dyer, of Sidenham-green, in this Parish, gentleman, and daughter of Peter and Elizabeth FRISBY, of St. James, Clerkenwell, London, where she was born the 2 of February, anno 1660, marryed June the 17, 1679, had issue two sons and one daughter, and resigned this life for a better April the 9, 1708, and now sleepeth in Jesus till the resurrection. She was a virtuous, loving wife, and a tender, indulgent mother.—Also underneath lieth buried next his wife the body of John Dyer, who resigned this mortal life for one that is eternall, purchased by Christ, the 6 day of September, anno Domini 1713, and in the 60 year of his age.

Beneath are these arms: Or a chief indented gules, impaling sable a chevron argent, between three goats' heads erased of the 2nd; on each side the crest, viz., a goat's head sable, issuing out of a ducal coronet or.

Larkins, farewell! nor shall thy humble stone
Record a virtue, nor a frailty own;
Let those who lov'd thee cherish in their breast
The dear remembrance of a friend at rest;
Let those who blam'd thee now their cavils save,
The voice of censure reaches not the grave.
No! bid them pass thro' life's entangled ways
Above reproach, nor yet the slaves of praise,
Till sunk, like thee, beneath the oblivious tomb,
The Judge of judges shall pronounce their Doom.

619. In a vault under this church are deposited the remains of | Ann, late wife of George Mackenzie MACAULAY, Esq. | Alderman of London | She died on the 28 of November, 1788, aged 36 years.

All that can rise to heaven our mortal name—
Religion—Duty—Love—this tribute claim.
Sense, which the glow of passions could not blind,
And firmness, persevering yet resign'd.
Go—on your heart her living likeness paint;
Lament the woman, while you bless the saint;
For when affection mourns on virtue's bier,
A weeping Saviour sanctifies the tear!

620. A stained glass window.—"St. Mary Magdalen washing the feet of Christ."—To the glory of God.—Ann PARKER died April 22, 1874; Thomas Parker died Nov. 14, 1879.—This window is dedicated to the loved memory of most devoted parents by their two daughters.

Robt. Lester Parkinson, R.N. | their second son | who died 18 Decr., 1836 | aged 38 years.

626. Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted | Mary | daughter of William and of Paulina LUSHINGTON | born Oct. 7, 1771, died Feby. 6, 1797.

Blame not, ye calm observers of distress,
A mother sorrowing to a fond excess,
True filial excellence of life so brief
Claims the full tribute of no common grief;
Here friendship, form'd by nature's singlest tie,
And hallow'd e'en by Heaven's approving eye,
Laments the dearest joys affection gave,
Lost in the darkness of a daughter's grave.
Pity absolves the parent thus o'ercome,
Her reason crush'd, her resignation dumb.
No human comforters such pangs controul,
But Seraphs whisper to the mourner's soul,
"Raise thy sunk eye to her in sainted rest,
Whose beauty charm'd thee, whose perfection blest,
Whose voice, now joining the seraphic quire,
To thee was soothing as devotion's lyre!
See her exalted from the mists of earth,
To radient recompense for spotless worth,
And let her merit (still thy graceful pride)
Prove to the throne of truth her parents' guide."—HAYLEY.
